Medaram Jatara

Medaram Jatara is a festival of tribal origin in Telangana. It is a festival of honouring the goddesses Sarakka celebrated in the state of Telangana.

The festival is held every two years at in Medaram Village in the heart of the thick forests of Jayashankar Bhupalpally district.

The festival honors tribal folk goddess Sammakka and Saralamma. It has become a major pilgrimage in the recent decade and is believed to attract the largest number of devotees in the country after Kumbha Mela.