

Q.

The combination of the private sector in health and the social insurance model has its own limits in catering to the public health in India. What we need is a robust public healthcare system in India. In light of this, discuss the challenges with the insurance model and suggest the ways to deal with it. (250words) 15 marks 11 min

Answer will be published shortly

ASPIRE IAS